

THIS IS THE FIRST PAGE ONLY (do not type or write)

Title

First and Last Name

Galaxy (Class or Subject)

Mr. Shamblin (teacher or instructors name)

Date

Introduction (Name of whale insert here, center this, don't type Introduction)

My research topic was on (name of whale). I researched six questions to help me to find out factual information about my chosen whale. The following six questions are: (remember double space everything)

Main Body (type or write: Questions about my Whale, don't type Main Body)

First paragraph(s): Where is my whale located at? (Answer this question with using as much details).

Next following paragraph(s): What caused my whale to migrate to the area or Where does my whale migrate to? Is my whale endangered? What are the physical characteristics of my whale? What is my whales diet? What are fifteen fun facts about my whale?

When citing the information from the source cards after typing or writing your information in parenthesis (Authors last name, year, page). Example (Woods, 2003, 1). If using exact words please use quotation around words “ “. If use more than 40 words, use a block quotation.

Concluding and Reflecting (Type this)

In conclusion, my topic was on (name of whale). I learned Other questions that I continue to think about are.....

References

Milem, J. F., (1998). Attitude change in college students: Examining the effect of college peer groups and faculty normative groups. The Journal of Higher Education, 69(2), 117-140.

Above is an example, alphabetize your references by author from your source cards. Abbreviate first and middle names. Use a hanging indent for your references (indent once after first line).

Appendix A

(anything you want to include, pictures data, etc. and if you add other pages, you would title this Appendix B, Appendix C, etc. at the top of the page center)